Concordia
UNIVERSITY

Dr. Patrick Kenniff
Rector and
Vice-Chancellor

I am pleased to welcome members of the Concordia family - students, alumni, faculty members, staff, supporters and friends - to this 1992 Homecoming Game. Sporting events are times when the various members of the University community come together to cheer our varsity athletes as they strive for excellence beneath our colours. Events such as this one are particularly special, as they bring together a large number of our alumni, with our current students - in celebration of our traditions - further strengthening the bond between us.

In addition to our varsity athletics, we must recognise the value of our intramural and recreational programmes as well. These sports draw thousands of participants each year and do much to foster fitness, self-discipline and teamwork. Both varsity and intramural sports serve a valuable purpose in the development of mental and physical achievement and, as a result, they serve to complement the academic aspect of life at the University.

We expect a lot from our athletes as they take to the field, the court, or the ice, carrying our hopes with them. Let us not forget that, though we all wish them to be the victors when the clock winds down, we should be proud of them for doing their best, regardless of the outcome. If they strive to succeed and do so with grace and dignity, then they are worthy of our admiration.

I hope you enjoy today's Homecoming game and expect that you will join me in raising your voice in support of our Stingers.

Recreation & ATHLETICS

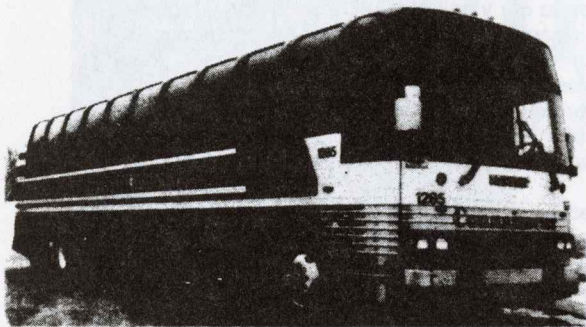

Kathy McDonald
Director
Recreation & Athletics

On behalf of the Department of Recreation & Athletics I would like to both welcome you to today's game as well as to encourage you to participate in any of the many activities which we offer.

Our interuniversity teams provide full-time students the opportunity to compete at a highly intense level of competition against athletes and teams from other institutions. While numerous athletes have progressed to the national or professional level, the training and competition at this level is its own reward. The discipline, team attitudes, and companionship that is formed has allowed our student-athletes to fully develop themselves since the early days of Loyola College in the 1900's. This pursuit of excellence is consistent with Concordia's commitment to providing a well-balanced university experience.

Patrick Sheahan

Head Coach

Pat Sheahan enters his fourth year as head coach of the Stingers, having directed Concordia into the O-QIFC playoffs in three previous seasons. Coach Sheahan was selected as the O-QIFC Coach of the Year, an amazing feat for a second year coach. The native of Brockville, Ontario, who spent five years as Associate Head Coach of the McGill Redmen, hopes to take the Stingers past the first round of the Ontario-Quebec Interuniversity Football Conference playoffs this season as the team continues to build towards national contention.

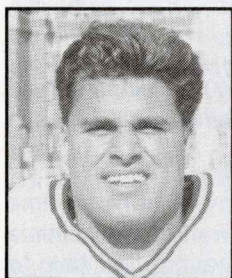

Pat's coaching career began in 1978 at Loyola High School. He coached Leo's Boys Bantam Football Club in 1979 before taking a two year coaching hiatus. Sheahan hooked up with the Montreal Junior Concordes in 1982 and helped guide the team to a Little Grey Cup berth in 1982.

A graduate of Brockville Collegiate High School where he quarterbacked the Rams to league playoffs, Pat entered Concordia in 1975. A versatile player, Pat was switched to tight end and eventually earned all-star honours at tackle.

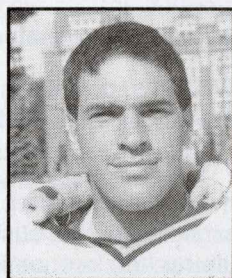

Sheahan was signed by the Edmonton Eskimos in both 1980 and 1981. He completed a Diploma in Sports Administration from Concordia University in 1981 after graduating with a Bachelor of Science (Cum Laude) in 1978. Pat is director of the Concordia Summer Sports Camp and resides in Kirkland with wife Lee and children Ryan, Erin and Devan.

Concordia
UNIVERSITY

Concordia Profile

With approximately 26,000 students, 3,200 faculty and staff, and more than 80,000 alumni worldwide, Montreal's Concordia University is one of Canada's largest and most dynamic centres of higher learning.

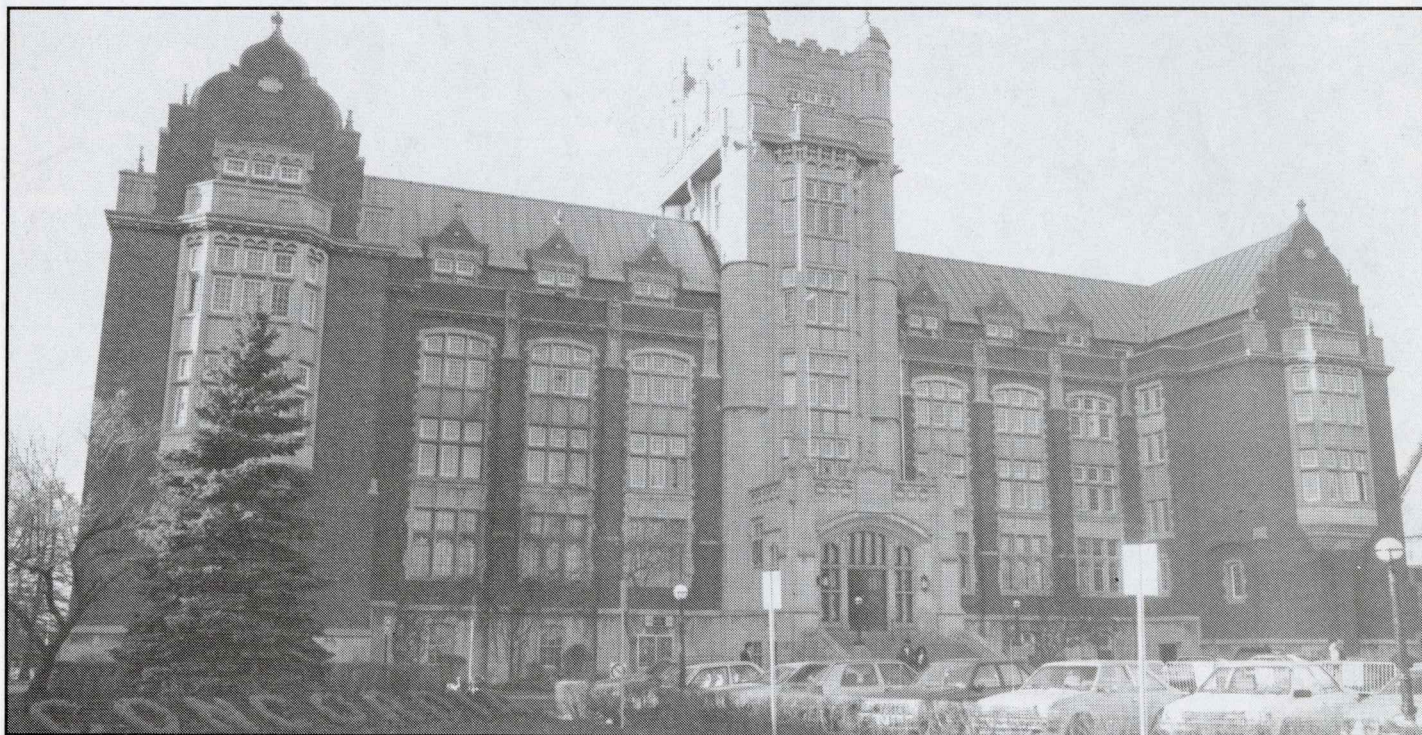

Students can choose from 160 undergraduate and graduate programmes in four Faculties: Commerce and Administration, Fine Arts, Engineering and Computer Science, and Arts and Science. Integrated within the Faculties are seven colleges and more than a dozen research centres.

From its founding institutions - Loyola College (1896) and Sir George Williams University (1873) - Concordia has inherited a tradition of superior teaching supported by the best possible scholarship, creative activity, research and service to society. Each year the University awards more than 3,600 degrees and diplomas.

Although the majority of its students are recent CEGEP graduates, Concordia maintains an openness to part-time studies, flexible class schedules and an interdisciplinary approach to learning for women and men of all ages and backgrounds. In fact, we are recognized as having one of Canada's most welcoming open-door policies towards senior students.

The university has two campuses: Sir George Williams, downtown with 40 buildings spread over 13 city blocks; and Loyola, about 7 kilometres away in a residential setting on 46 acres in west-end Montreal. That Campus has 41 buildings.

Concordia's hallmark has always been community involvement. Many of our part-time faculty are professionals drawn from the artistic community and the business world. The full-time faculty are engaged in a wide range of social, cultural and economic endeavors that help to enrich the lives of people in Montreal, across Canada and abroad.

Ever-responsive to Montreal's bilingual and multicultural environment, Concordia offers a wide range of community services from business and professional seminars to cultural and recreational activities. For example:

- many of Concordia's library services are open to the public;

- attendance at the University's music concerts, film screenings, drama productions, lectures, art exhibitions and sports events numbers in the hundreds of thousands annually;

- Concordia recently opened its Concert Hall, a 10,000 square foot, 619-seat facility on our Loyola Campus. The hall is available to community groups for as many as 100 performances a year;

- Concordia faculty and students provide research and consulting services to corporations, individuals and small business.

Concordia's commitment to football excellence began with the Loyola Warriors in 1915. While the game has changed since then,

Concordia's ability to offer quality education in combination with elite athletic competition has not. The Stingers became a member of the Ontario-Quebec Intercollegiate Football Conference in 1975 and have fielded competitive teams ever since. The late seventies and early eighties produced some particularly strong clubs, with the 1982 squad winning the O-QIFC championship and playing in the national semi-finals.

While the team is very proud of the number of players it has sent to the professional ranks, it is prouder still of its academic record. To date, a remarkably high percentage of Stinger players have received their degrees from Concordia. This aspect of the Concordia experience remains critically important to the team, because when the cleats are put away for the last time, the athlete needs more than memories to fall back on - he needs an education.

By fielding hard-hitting, disciplined and offensively creative teams, Concordia Head Coach Pat Sheahan looks forward to bringing national acclaim to the Stinger football program in the 1990's.

Stinger Alumni

The Concordia football programme and its predecessor Loyola have produced some outstanding student-athletes who continue to bring honour to Concordia through their achievements whether it's on the gridiron, in the business world, in academics or as leading citizens in their community. Their list includes Dr. Bob Broderick, team doctor of the Montreal Expos, Peter Howlett, a noted Montreal businessman who is actively involved with community work, and Frank Shaughnessy Jr. an outstanding athlete who also helped the U.S. hockey team to a silver medal in the '36 Olympics.

Brian Marcil, a Loyola graduate who captained the 1969 squad, was named to the All-Canadian team en route to being drafted by the C.F.L.'s Montreal Alouettes. After a season with the Als Brian was traded to the Calgary Stampeders where he spent four years. The highlight of his professional career came in 1971 when he helped the Stampeders to a Grey Cup victory.

Larry Titley is another former Loyola player who has enjoyed success in the C.F.L. The 6'2", 220 lb offensive lineman enrolled in Loyola College in 1972 and graduated from Concordia in 1975 with a Bachelor of Economics. Drafted by Calgary, Larry spent four years with the Stampeders before finishing his career with the Ottawa Rough Riders.

Paul Vajda, offensive tackle for the Saskatchewan Roughriders, had an outstanding university career in which he was named All-Canadian (1989), the Ontario-Quebec Intercollegiate Football Conference Lineman of the Year (1985) and selected to participate in the prestigious East-West Shrine Bowl in Palo Alto, California. He continues to shine in the C.F.L. and was named the Roughriders' Rookie of the Year in 1992.

Nick Benjamin made Concordia history in 1985 when he became the first overall draft pick for the C.F.L. Ottawa Rough Riders. The former two-time All-Canadian justified the selection by being named the Eastern Conference Rookie Year. Nick was traded to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers where he continues to be a mainstay on their offensive line.

'92 Stingers Coaching Staff

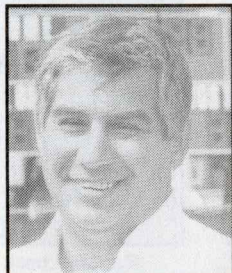

Gerry McGrath
Offensive Coordinator

The appointment of Gerry McGrath as offensive coordinator of the Concordia Stingers was another step in the team's development under head coach Pat Sheahan. Gerry brings a wealth of coaching and playing experience to the Concordia programme. He first gained notoriety as an outstanding junior player for the Verdun Maple Leafs who later went on to play six years in the Canadian Football League with the Montreal Alouettes/Concordes (1980-84) and the Saskatchewan Roughriders (1985-86). He was selected to the Junior All-Canadian team in 1979 and finished his pro career with a 42.8 lifetime punt average.

His coaching career began with the LaSalle Midget team and included three years with the St. Leonard Junior team. Last year he served as head coach of the semi-pro Montreal Voyageurs.

In addition to his coaching duties, Gerry will assist in the department's highly successful summer camps and event management.

Peter Regimbald
Offensive Backs & Specialty Teams

The senior member of the Concordia coaching staff, Pete begins his twelfth season with the Stingers. One of the most respected football men in Quebec, Regimbald has successfully coached at Vanier College and Loyola College.

A former wide receiver with the Montreal Alouettes (1965), Regimbald played college football at St. Francis Xavier. His university coaching career began in 1970 at Loyola where he helped lead the Warriors to three league titles in the seventies. Regimbald also helped coach the Loyola hockey team in 1974 and 1975.

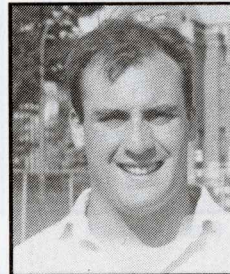

Grant Allan
Defensive Line Coach

Grant begins his third season on the Concordia staff following a long and successful career with the North Shore organization. He coached the North Shore Lions and the North Shore Mustangs to league championships before leading the North Shore Broncos to a provincial championship in 1985. Pat Sheahan feels his knowledge, experience and positive attitude will continue to be great assets to the team.

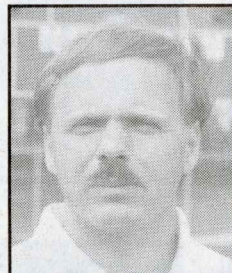

John Aiken
Receiver Coach

John returned to the Stinger staff in 1990 after a two-year absence and was instrumental in the development of Concordia's young receivers. During his eleven years with Concordia he has been credited with developing some of the finest receivers in the conference, including All-Canadian Gerry Prud'homme. A standout performer with the Verdun Maple Leafs, John had a tryout with the C.F.L. Toronto Argonauts.

Duncan Carlyle
Defensive Coach

Duncan is a graduate assistant who joins the Stinger staff after playing five years for the McGill Redmen. He earned a reputation as an aggressive, versatile defensive player during his stint with McGill. Duncan is the older brother of the Stinger's freshman receiver Matt Carlyle.

Peter Chrysomalis
Defensive Coordinator

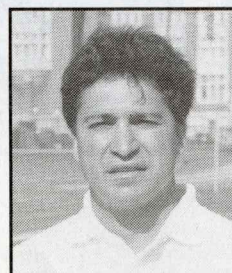

In the three years that Peter has served as Concordia's defensive coordinator he has turned the Stingers into one of the finest defensive units in the CIAU. He came to Concordia in 1989 after an outstanding tenure with the Chateaugay Raiders where he captured two provincial titles in three years.

The native of Montreal played three seasons for the Concordia Stingers (1980-82). He was a starting defensive halfback with the 1982 Ontario-Quebec Intercollegiate Football Conference championship team which came within one game of reaching the Vanier Cup.

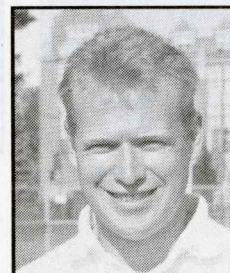

Dan McKinnon
Defensive Coach

Dan joins the Concordia staff with a solid background in amateur football. He began with the St. Bruno programme and spent four years as head coach of the St. Leonard Cougars Junior team. He spent last year as an assistant with the Montreal Voyageurs.

Art Farinha
Defensive Back Coach

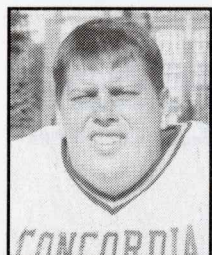

Art joined the Concordia coaching staff last year after a successful four year tenure with the St-Hubert Rebels of the Quebec Junior League. He was credited with turning the Rebels into the number one defensive team in the league.

Sylvain Jetté
Quarterback and Receiver Coach

A former Concordia wide receiver, Sylvain enters his second season on the Stinger staff after a three year stint with the French National Team. Sylvain, who has coached at CEGEP Maisonneuve and Vieux Montréal, works with the wide receivers and offensive backfield.

Georges Philias Vanier (1888-1967)

The son of a French-speaking father and an Irish mother, Georges Vanier was educated at Loyola College in Montreal and Université Laval (BA 1906, LL.B 1911) and was called to the Quebec Bar in 1911. He never really took to law and when the First World War broke out he was active in raising the first French-Canadian regiment - the famous 'Van Doos,' officially known as the 22e Battalion Canadien Français. He served with them in France from 1915, winning the D.S.O. and the Military Cross with bar for conspicuous gallantry, losing a leg after leading his battalion in the last victorious offensive. Shortly after his return to Canada and his appointment as second in command at the Citadel in Quebec City, he married Pauline Archer, daughter of Mr. Justice Charles Archer. They had four sons and one daughter. After two years as commanding officer of the Citadel he represented Canada on the diplomatic front in London and Geneva, culminating in his appointment as Canadian Minister to France, a position he held until France's wartime demise. Promoted to major-general in 1943, he returned to Paris a year later with the rank of ambassador and held that appointment until his retirement in 1953.

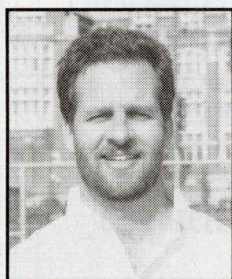

Upon his return to Canada he became a director of a number of Canadian companies. However, his resumption of service to his country was announced by the Queen in Halifax at the end of her 1959 Canadian tour - Vanier would become the first French-speaking Governor General of Canada. He took office on September 15, 1959 and held the post until his death in Ottawa on March 5, 1967, acquitting himself with immense dignity and devotion. He never ceased to plead the cause of Canadian unity and when he died, the truth of Lester Pearson's succinct eulogy - 'he was a very great man' - was confirmed by the tributes paid to his memory by thousands of his fellow countrymen.

Athletic Therapy Staff

Ron Rappel
Head Athletic Therapist

Ron Rappel has headed the Concordia Sport Science and Medicine area for the last seven years. A certified athletic therapist, he is one of the leading therapists in Canada. He was a member of the Canadian medical team in the 1991 Pan American Games and was the coordinator of the 1992 C.A.T.A. Conference held in Montreal. A 1984 Concordia graduate, Ron is a part-time lecturer with the Exercise Science Department.

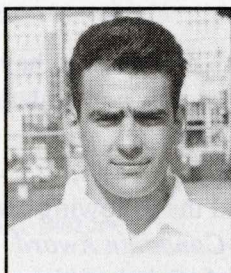

Scott Livingston
Strength & Conditioning Coach

Scott has been the strength and conditioning coach at Concordia for the last three years. His responsibilities include the design and implementation of progressive conditioning programmes for the Stinger teams. Scott is a certified athletic therapist who graduated from Concordia in 1982.
